

THIS THURSDAY

A BIG REASON TO GIVE THANKS!

SATURN DIRECT. FINALLY.

25° Pisces

HALLe-FUCKIn-LUJAH.

Let's finish this thing...

Saturn stations direct this Thursday...

FINALLY.

SING AND SWEAR HALLELUJAH. 🙌

For the last 2.5 years,
The Strategist – who loves limits, structure, and discipline – has been swimming through the Piscean waters of boundaryless merging and love.

A weird, holy paradox.

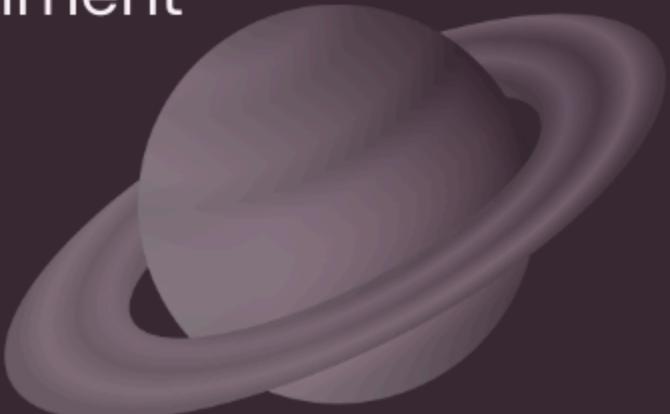

SATURN PUSHED.

PISCES DISSOLVED.

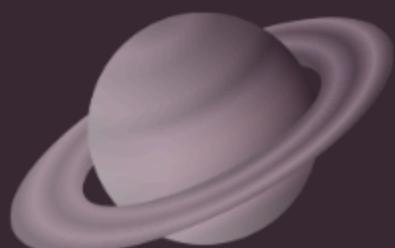

And in that weird holy squeeze we've made real changes:

- Less numbing – alcohol, food, or maybe fantasy
- Boundaries that hold – even when it meant a breakup or walking away from something comfortable
- Feeding ourselves real nourishment
- Less screen-time and self-abandonment

And some of the real lessons
CAME THROUGH THE BOUNDARY
YOU DIDN'T HOLD —
THE ONE YOU LET FLEX FOR LOVE, COMPASSION, OR FAMILY.

That wasn't failure.
That was part of the medicine.

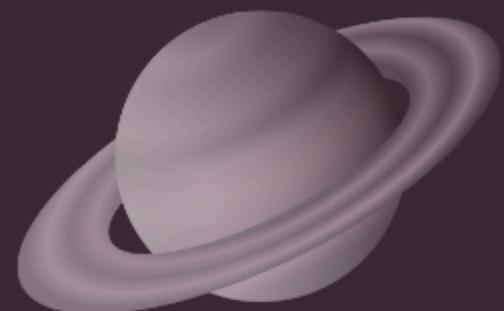

So what does this look like in your actual world?

Let's break it down by rising sign

Saturn is nothing if not incredibly practical!!

ARIES RISING

Hello Heroes!

One last heroic look at how you take your inner world seriously...

the patterns, fears, and spiritual loose ends you usually outrun.

This is the work no one sees.

Saturn wants you to finish the last of it now:
clear the ghosts,
close the loops,
plug the energy leaks.

One last push (you love to push!)

Let's finish this up and get to Aries already. 🔥

Next year Saturn moves to 14° Aries, which means it may enter your 1st house depending on your rising degree – and that's a whole new chapter of identity, direction, and boundaries working FOR YOU!

But for now?

Tend to the backstage so the next chapter is yours to claim.

TAURUS RISING

HAIL TO THE QUIET POWERHOUSES

Dreamy meets grounded.

Final bit to start doing what you are excellent at...

slow, steady, real steps forward.

An Idea:

Spend time with people who already live what you want.
Your nervous system will match theirs.
Your happy animal energy stays.

Here is your time to start embodying some of those structural shift ideas.

GEMINI RISING

LET'S CHAT!

How has structuring to your spiritual, intuitive, creative identity in the world been taking real shape?

Pisces on your Midheaven means your career path has always been a little... foggy.

You FEEL your purpose more than you define it.

But now the final stages of defining it... a bit!

Not stiff. Not too dispersed.

It's a TRICKY balance. FEEL into it as Saturn moves forward into Aries helping you with your hopes and dreams (next year!)

Is this a time to:

Pick a lane? (ish)

Owning your title? (dream it up!!)

Refine what you want to be known for

Let the world understand what you actually DO

Your magic is ready to sparkle for all to see

and

It gets structured enough that people can finally recognize it.

🌙 What beliefs have you been feeling might need (or have already been) restructured?

Saturn's journey in the last 2.5 years has been visiting the exact places where your faith, worldview, and emotional TRUTH get shaped.

It's time to solidify — at least a little — and start initiating the changes touching your emotional buttons around how you make meaning in this world.

This is the work of clarifying:

WHAT IS YOUR SPIRITUAL / EMOTIONAL / FABULOUS TRUTH?

The final stages of this process set the stage for the BIG Aries chapter coming next year — the restructure of how the world sees you (10th house).

You can't be seen clearly until you believe yourself clearly.

Don't rush this last important bit.

And take a big sigh of relief — the review phase is pretty much complete.

Now it's time to start living these new beliefs in real time, in real life.

Leo RISING

We BOW to your royal heart

Ahhhh the fun of the 8th house. (😅)

You've been IN IT.

Restructuring intimacy.

Asking yourself: How do I do vulnerability?

And who actually gets the real, authentic part of me?

What powerful endings are you grieving?

What's been burning down so something truer can rise?

Remember:

To phoenix UP, shit has to burn all the way down.

One majestic Leo Rising I adore always reminds me:

Don't lose your dignity.

And you haven't —you've been in 2.5 years of shining it up, clearing it out, and reclaiming what is yours.

We're not quite to Aries yet...

So lean on that bonfire rising of yours for the last bit of inspiration, passion, and devotion to carry you through the final stretch of this underworld chapter.

Next year, Saturn moves into Aries and your 9th house —and all this shadow work turns into meaning.

Coherence.

Truth.

Purpose.

Do. Not. Quit.

You're almost through the fire.

VIRGO RISING

Ah-Baby- I feel your pain

We have been becoming Boundary Connoisseurs. 🌿 (good times)

This has been a significant time of re-structuring how we do relationships.

And while Virgo LOVES to figure that shit out –control it, tweak it, tinker with it until it's just-so –that is NOT how Pisces works.

That's the RUB.

Part of the “work” here has been surrendering to the fact that relationships are MESSY even with all your fabulous Virgo skills. (UGH x 1,000,000)

As Saturn moves forward

(and eventually gets the FUCK out of our relationship house – Thank you very much)...

Can you DISCERN (Virgo) where you need to SURRENDER (Pisces) and allow for some blurred lines? Woof.

There may be a little rigidity as you tighten up this skill set – so watch for STRONG reactions to things.

That's your shadow showing you where the work is. (So much fun!)

Remember:

Accept All. Reject None.

And yes –

that includes the Pisces, mergy, dissolving parts inside of you.

LIBRA RISING

hello balanced beauties

Balance requires boundaries.

Ease requires structure.

This is the part of life where your habits live.

Your routines.

Your daily rhythm.

And honestly?

It's hard to make a plan and stick with it when Pisces rules in the place of work and health.

Things melt... dissolve... shift with the emotional tides.

As you finish this chapter — before Saturn moves into Aries and lights up your relationship house with bold passion —ask yourself:

How can you create a flowing structure?

Not rigid. Not overwhelming. Just enough to hold you.

How can you let your emotions pull you into the behaviors that support your best health?

And...

Can you call on your spiritual, higher-calling lens to inspire you to show up for your daily work as the highest and best version of yourself —because honestly, that is how you love?

This is your final stretch of building routines that support the kind of connection you want next year.

SCORPIO RISING

Intense passionate greetings to you

Ahhhh, Saturn in his heavy boots stomping through your house of joy, romance, and creativity — a strange, sacred place for such a grouchy planet.

And yet... a spark of delight may have found its way in (maybe... this is Saturn)

Not fleeting.

Not chaotic.

Something you could actually hold.

Saturn here has been asking you to look at:

Are you structuring in room for healthy romance?

Not intensity-for-intensity's-sake, but romance that is grounded, nourishing, and emotionally reciprocal.

Are you allowing the authentic YOU in your creative endeavors?

Not the masked version.

Not the controlled version.

The real one — the authentic one — that some (obviously only the chosen!!) can see.

Saturn's demand for structure in a flowy sign (Pisces), in a creative, spark-filled house (the 5th), has actually been helping you bring inspiration into FORM.

Art with legs.

Joy with a spine.

Take advantage of these last months here.

Because when Saturn moves into Aries and your 6th house next year, it's game ON for habits, health, and daily life.

For now?

Let in the delight you've earned.

This version of joy stays.

SAGITTARIUS RISING

Yo Yo meaning makers

Holy shit – a deep look at your roots.

Family. Home. Belonging.

Might not your favorite terrain to restructure but with Saturn, it's best to take some inventory and allow yourselves to feel into the changes.

With Pisces in your house of home, family, foundations and that being on the mergey, emotional, boundary-blurry side, having Saturn there has demanded a look at the structure. This might have felt like living deeply internally in a paradox.

You've been working through:

- boundaries with family
- what "home" actually means
- how you merge vs. when you need space
- what belonging looks like without losing your freedom

These last months aren't about perfection –

they're about getting clearer on how YOU:

- root
- merge
- and author your own foundation

Not the one you inherited. – The one you want to live in.

Yours.

For now?

Do the work to let the old stuff go – the patterns, the stories, the inherited crap.

Pisces is about endings, and Saturn is calling for an end to the foundations that no longer suits you.

This transit makes room for roots that make you feel free to be you.

CAPRICORN RISING

Hail Mountain Movers

Give a Cap Rising a mountain and yep... it's as good as conquered.
But this time the BOSS (Saturn) is realigning your daily movements –
How you move through your world, Your routines, Your errands, Your everyday rhythms are being questioned.

With Pisces in your 3rd house, this is technically an intuitive, fluid, feel-your-way kind of place. You just love this...

So Saturn has been asking:

- Can you trust your feeling about how to change up your days?
- ARE YOU TUNING IN TO THAT FEELING??
- Can you own what you really want to be doing out there, day after day?

Saturn is your ruling planet, so the instinct is always:

Let's structure this. Let's make it happen. NOT AFRAID TO SLOG!

Pisces... not so much.

Pisces dissolves, softens, and asks you to sense your next move.

These last months may be inviting you to:

- Soften the rigidity
- Follow the intuitive nudge
- Let your daily choices emerge from feeling, not force
- Notice which movements set up the life experience you actually want

This is your chance to align your daily path with the mountain YOU feel is the right one for you to climb.

AQUARIUS RISING

Looking at life as a Visionary

Your values might be clear, principled, and linear – that fixed-air brilliance knows exactly what it stands for.

But the way you resource yourself, support yourself, and replenish your energy and inner reserves? That lives in Pisces –intuitive, sensitive, imaginal, deeply perceptive.

And Saturn has been not so subtly asking:

- Can you trust THAT?
- Can you trust the quieter knowing?
- Can you treat your sensitivity as a legitimate tool?
- Can you follow the intuitive flow as a resource to you and the world?

Because this is where there is magic for you –

The fusion of your clear lens of a vision (Aquarius) with your intuitive resourcing style (2nd house Pisces), and now, with the Strategist (Saturn) asking you HOW will you to bring some of that magic into form.

The last 2.5 years may have reshaped your:

- relationship to self-worth
- sense of what feels nourishing
- confidence in your natural gifts
- trust in your energetic sensitivity as a resource

So ask yourself:

What needs to happen for you to trust your intuitive, sensitive gifts as part of the foundation that supports your life?

When Saturn moves into Aries next year, your voice, message, and daily communications get activated.
You'll want your inner resourcing system aligned and grounded before that shift.

For now?

Let the outdated ideas about what “counts” dissolve.

Your intuition, sensitivity, and inner knowing are your resources.

Own them.

PISCES RISING

Will the even more YOU please stand up? (YES!)

Saturn has been in your 1st house for the last 2.5 years –meaning the restructuring has been YOU.

Your identity.

Your presence in the world.

Your sense of I am here.

For a sign that naturally dissolves, merges, and absorbs... this has been A LOT.

Saturn has been asking you to examine:

- Who are you when you aren't blending?
- Who are you when you stop disappearing?
- Who are you when you hold a boundary instead of leaking energy everywhere?

You've been learning to:

- take up space
- define your edges (still going to be soft and lovely though!!)
- choose where you end and others begin
- embody your intuition instead of floating above your life

THIS HASN'T BEEN "GET TOUGHER." (THANK GOD!!)

This has been:

Get clearer.

Get realer.

Get more you.

Even if that "you" is softer than Saturn prefers.

★ LET THE OUTDATED SELVES DISSOLVE.

★ KEEP THE ONE THAT FEELS TRUE IN YOUR BONES.

★ THIS IS THE VERSION OF YOU THAT LEADS THE NEXT CHAPTER.

The last months of this transit are asking:

What version of yourself is ready to stay?

What identity is no longer yours?

And what new definition is asking to be lived out loud?
